Games declared open

With chants and cheers filling the room, it wasn't hard to feel the same excitement as the athletes and coaches as they prepare for the first day of the championship.

If the enthusiasm shown by athletes during the opening ceremony is any indication, we're starting a very exciting week!

Good luck to all the teams and keep checking back here for updates, statistics, and more.

Full standings and statistics are available on the Ringette Canada website at www.ringette.ca.

Athletes' Forum

Team representatives who attended the forum yesterday had a chance to voice their opinions or ask questions about rules, equipment, and various other issues.

For information about the discussion or to have your say - join the official athletes' forum group on Facebook!

Search for the 2009 Ringette Athlete Forum and don't forget to add Samantha Belle Ringette to your friends list. She is Ringette Canada's official "Facebook friend" and will help open discussions on all things ringette.

Flag bearers carry in the provincial flags during the opening ceremony of the championship

The Celtic Ladies perform at the opening ceremony, moments before inviting the athletes on to the stage to dance in true Celtic style.

Coming up tomorrow

As provincial teams continue their round-robin games, the NRL Division will also start playing tomorrow. The NRL award finalists will also be announced.
